Helping you make the right choices

At Elements Cremation, we believe there are as many right ways of handling a cremation and memorializing a loved one as there are people who need our services. However you choose to honor your loved one, Elements Cremation offers a wide range of options and the ideal combination of expertise and experience to give you total peace of mind that you are doing the right thing for your loved one, your family, and yourself.

Compassionate personalized support

Elements Cremation is a full-service cremation company dedicated to assisting families and individuals through one of life's greatest challenges—the death of a loved one. Whether you're planning in advance or need our services immediately, we help put the right elements in the right order to meet your needs. We work closely with you throughout the process, offering as much information and guidance as you want or need to make the right decision.

Choosing cremation

People select cremation for a variety of reasons: cultural customs, religious beliefs, economic incentives, or even environmental concerns. If you're trying to decide whether cremation is right for you or a loved one, please call us. We'll answer your questions, address your concerns, and help you or other family members resolve any issues in an open, supportive atmosphere.

Planning for the future

Advance planning is the best way to ensure that your wishes are honored. You can plan in as much detail as you like. We will identify all the components that can be arranged in advance, including legal documents, and assist you in every way possible.

Celebrating life in all its richness

It's one of the most personal and meaningful decisions anyone can make—how to honor the memory of a loved one. Some families choose to do it in ways that align with their culture, customs, and religious beliefs. Others prefer more contemporary or less formal approaches. Still others believe it is a time for celebrating a life well lived, often with music, food, and a social gathering.

Elements Cremation understands that each choice is as unique as the individual it honors. We invite you to explore the many options we offer for honoring your loved one in the most appropriate manner. We promise to support you with care and compassion every step of the way.

Always there when you need us

Whether you seek cremation services now, are planning for the future, or simply want to learn more, we always stand ready to answer questions, offer more information, or provide immediate service and personalized support.

You will find the answers to questions that many families and individuals have in the About Cremation section on our website at www.elementscremation.com. Or you can always call us day or night at 855.550.5151.

The Elements Cremation distinction

The depth of expertise and experience of our professional staff combined with the breadth of services we provide are the distinguishing characteristics of Elements Cremation.

Professionally, we are focused on providing the highest quality cremation services and are fully trained, licensed, and credentialed to do so.

Personally, we are dedicated to assisting families and individuals with care and compassion. Our specialized expertise includes helping others deal with the loss of a child; planning for the impending death of a parent, spouse, or life partner; and addressing grief and loss issues.

A continuum of caring services

In addition to the dignity and simplicity of cremation, we offer an array of optional capabilities and support services that many families have found of great help in their time of loss.

- Memorial service and celebration of life planning
- Urns, keepsakes, and other containment options
- Obituary preparation and placement worldwide
- Travel and transport support of cremains
- Ancillary services, including in-house legal counsel for end-of-life issues, and coordination of long- and short-term care, real estate or personal estate professionals

When you choose any of these optional services, we provide cost estimates in advance and work closely with you to ensure that your needs and expectations are fully met.
